

The Three Little Dogs

Indy Young

Once upon a time there lived three little dogs. The first dog lived in a house made of dog treats. The second dog lived in a house made of dog toys. And the third dog lived in a house made of bricks. They were all happy with their houses. Then one day an evil cat came and tried to meow their houses down. First she meowed the dog treat house down. So then the first dog ran to the second dog's house. Then the evil cat meowed the second house down. So the two dogs ran to the third dog's house. The evil cat knew she could not meow down a brick house, so instead she crawled into the chimney. The dogs knew her plan and put a garbage can there.

The cat fell into the garbage can and the dogs took her to the dump.
They all lived happily ever after except for the evil cat who got taken to jail.

The End

